

ABSTRACT

Disclosed is an artificial target-specific ligand that binds to both serum albumin and a particular molecular target. Interaction with serum albumin improves properties when administered to a subject. For example, an interaction between the ligand and serum
5 albumin can extend the half-life of the ligand in circulation.